

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

2-2-21

DESIRED OUTCOMES: At the end of the activity, attendees will be able to:

- define/describe what Multi- System Hyperinflammatory Syndrome – in Children.
- recognize clinical findings -cardiac and GI manifestations of MIS-C.
- evaluate laboratory findings of MIS-C.
- discuss potential mechanisms of MIS-C- The Super antigen Hypothesis.
- Evaluate current therapies for MIS-C
- define follow up considerations and long-term concerns that may result from MIS-C.

LEARNERS: pediatricians, infectious disease specialists, general/family practitioners, emergency department physicians nursing staff, and ancillary staff.

DESIRABLE PHYSICIAN ATTRIBUTE: provide patient-centered care, employ evidence-based practice